Sydney, the Samo- yed show and more

Helen and I arrived at our Darling Harbour apartment late Saturday evening and headed off for something to eat. Didn't quite know exactly where we were going and found ourselves in 'China Town'.....a 'veeeeery' interesting experience as we found out and yes, you guessed it, that night we had 'chinese', which was our first 'try' out of a 'proper' Chinese restaurant.

Over the next few days, Helen went into "full shopping and training mode". Her 'theory' is...you have dinner the night before and then 'shop' it all 'off' the next day. We had a great time in Sydney, played tourists and visited most of the sights and also found time to see 'The Lion King' as well. And would you believe it, the weather was quite warm (didn't see any hail stones at all!- heard about them, but that was all). Spent a day in the Hunter Valley wine region and found some really 'good stuff' and best of all we had lunch at a restaurant we found, aptly called 'OSCARS'.

Friday, we headed out to Nepean Shores Holiday Park in Penrith, about an hour and a bit's drive west from central Sydney, and so began the start of an excellent weekend full of Samoyeds and yet more Samoyeds.

That evening, a group of 'us Kiwi's' went out to dinner at the 'Lone Star Steak House' in Penrith with some of our fellow Aussie's and had a Great time. Putting names to faces did not prove to be a problem, especially after we had a few wines. We all made some new friends and caught up with some old ones (friends that is).

The show started 10am Saturday at the Bill Spillstead Complex, which was set out very professionally with tables and chairs around the main ring for the spectators and the exhibitor's marquee's erected behind them, all of which had a good view of the proceedings. When the dogs began their classes (the dogs were shown on Saturday and bitches on Sunday along with the 'In Show' finals) it was an amazing sight to see, when you have numbers like 14 dogs in 'Intermediate', 25 in 'Australian Bred' and 22 in 'Open', it truly is an impressive sight to see that many dogs in the ring and with similar numbers on the Sunday for the bitches, you could be forgiven for not remembering all that went on.

It was great not having to groom and prepare any dogs. You could talk to people, take photographs and watch all that was going on without the pressure of "how long have we got before we are on".

I was also most impressed with the judge, Mrs J Nonhof (Moonlighter Samoyeds, USA) if not only for her memory and her patience (she was smiling all the way through for both days) and for the superb job she did. She had a mammoth task of picking first, the placings of each split class and then the final line up, how she managed it I do not know, but she did. The Best In Show winner, Aust. CH. Kalaska Sheer Excellence (Lenny) did her judging 'justice', as he is a dog with 'show presence' and was expertly handled by Jamie Beard (Kalaska Kennels). Not only was 'Lenny' very well presented, but so were all the other Samoyeds.

President's Report

Wanda has just chased me up on this report so I am rushing to get it done before I take off early tomorrow morning for Sydney and the Australian Samoyed National 2004. This is a huge show by Samoyed standards and held every three years in a different part of Australia. I think I am right in saying the entry is around 200 Samoyeds. There are several New Zealanders going over so it will hopefully be a rather social event.

Getting back to New Zealand and the Samoyed Club in particular – our next show will be the Open show in Taupo. Hopefully we will have a good entry to support what is for many the last show weekend of the year. I think a few of us will be camping on the grounds so if you want to join us or come along to say “Hi” please feel free. Lorraine has been busy with organizing the prizes and I am sure they will be useful and up to the very good standard of prize our Club is well known to provide. Please help the Club funds by sponsoring a class. There is a range of dollar amounts so please talk to Lorraine for the details.

There have been a few new Champions lately – well done. Making up a champion is always an achievement especially when you have top winning dogs that you have to beat to get those much sought after Challenge Certificates. I have to say I am pleased we have such a simple yet challenging way of making up Champions in New Zealand. I find the Australian system quite confusing by comparison.

The Club also has some fun events lined up now that summer is hopefully just around the corner. We have a walk planned on the Hutt River for Sunday 19th September and the now Annual Snow Dog Match against the Siberian Huskies and Alaskan Malamutes in preparation for November. Ads are somewhere else in this magazine. Please support these events as they take quite a bit to organize and really are good fun. Sometimes I think folks get just too serious at breed shows and it takes all the fun out of what is a great sport.

I have been busy with obedience quite a bit this year and have really started to enjoy doing something else with my Samoyeds. There are some very good obedience clubs so if you think you might like to do something that bit different give obedience a go and don't be put off by those who say Sams cannot do obedience – they can !!!.

Good to also see that a few more folks are out there giving sledging a go. The big event in the Sled dog calendar is Wanaka. Hopefully the Andy's will give us a report back on their adventures for the next magazine and have some dazzling photos to boot.

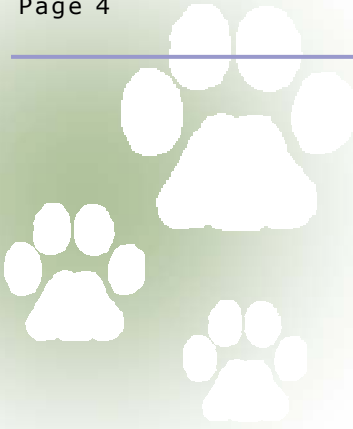

Welcome to all the new members of the club. I hope you will have a happy and long association with the Club. Remember the Club is here to help you with any aspects of your Samoyed ownership so if you require assistance please ask.

Yours in Sams

Secretary's Report

Firstly, a big welcome to our new members. There have been a few of you lately with new puppies. If you are wanting any help with grooming, training etc, please don't hesitate to contact someone on the committee. We are here to help.

What a busy couple of months with lots of babies born in both the North and South Islands. It will be exciting seeing all these youngsters in the ring (there is something about Samoyed puppies that makes you go "awwwww") and hopefully some new exhibitors. Just remember we were all new to the show ring at one stage so be nice and help out where you can. Samoyed numbers in the show ring are dropping as of late so we don't want to turn these people off, after all it is meant to be an enjoyable time out with your dogs.

Don't forget entries for our Open Show close on the 10th October. This show will not be advertised in the Kennel Gazette. It is being held in Taupo so even if you aren't exhibiting come down and introduce yourselves. I personally, am looking forward to travelling up to Taupo and catching up with you people further North.

Our Sammie walk is planned for Sunday

19th September if the weather allows it. It is being held in Upper Hutt starting at the Moonshine bridge and with a trail along the river bank, it is a lovely walk for you and your Samoyed. A map is included in this issue. Don't forget to bring water for both you and your dog. Looking forward to seeing you!

Please if you have any fund-raising ideas, contact the committee. We are at the moment selling chocolates so if you think you can sell a box or two, contact us.

Until next time

Editors Report

Thank you everyone for sending in things early for this issue. In a couple of weeks there will be the sound of pit-a-patter of little feet in our house and no, not a puppy (those of you who have seen me know I am had to miss at the moment) know that we are expecting our first baby. I wanted to make sure this issue made it out before the baby.

The next Issue is Christmas - where does the time go?

Please send me photos of your dogs to go into our photo page and anything else you may think will be of interest.

And as always please let me know of anything you would like to read about or see in the magazine.

My 1st Sled Race Experience

It all started when staying with friends in Christchurch who are into racing Siberians and Malamutes. I asked if I could put my dogs in harness and take a picture 'for a laugh!' Sure, Nathan said, we can take them out and give them a go if you don't mind getting your powder puffs dirty. Well that was that, I was hooked! What an awesome experience to be pulled by my babies!

My first race was in the forests of Hamner Springs on the 31st July this year. Due to illness my training hadn't gone as planned, but I was keen as keen to give it a go. I was running in a 2 dog scooter race with Sharna (NZ Ch Penza Snow Mist), my 9 1/2 year old bitch and Zeus (NZ Ch Vashka Song and Dance, Imp Aust) my 4 1/2 year old show dog. Sharna was the confident puller and Zeus was the fit runner. Originally he was a bit unsure on what to do, but he soon had picked it up with Sharna doing the hard work initially (typical Male leaving the hard work to the Girl!). The race was just under 5km in distance and we had one Saturday night and another Sunday morning. I had never ran the dogs 2 days consecutively, so this alone was an achievement in its own!

Saturday morning was my first experience watching the rig teams go out for the longer races. What an overwhelming experience it was with excited dogs literally screaming and jumping in the air wanting to run, very deafening to be there!

We were racing at about 5pm so it was not quite as cold as it had been at 7am in the morning in the middle of the forest – learnt that thermals are a wonderful thing, and next time takes even more!!!!

I was the 2nd team to go out, so was very nervous as couldn't watch any others go, Nathan and Cheryl, Andy and Denise and many others were very helpful, and my good friend Hannah came to help me too. Waiting at the start line was really nerve wrecking – was I going to make it??? 10 seconds, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 and we were off. Had a slight tangle on the start line, but the dogs took off well and were great with other teams passing. I had never even trained with any others before, let alone raced! They loved to chase and I was very pleased with how they went. Sharna struggles with her age and on the 2nd part of the course it became evident that her speed was not as good as Zeus, but she is a real wee puller and has a big heart. The last 800 metres up hill was a challenge as I had bronchitis at the time and was struggling with my fitness due to this. When everyone on the finish line started calling the dog's names they took off again and ran well for home.

Crossing the line was an amazing high! I was exhausted and had nothing more left in me, as were they! People appeared in all directions to take the dogs, my scooter, and look after them for me so I could recover, it was so touching to have people help and care for the dogs so much.

The next morning was an early start so off I went again, this time 4th from last so more time to watch others and not near as nervous as it was the same course and so I knew where to go. It was evident that the dogs were very tired from the day before as even Zeus gave up going full speed about 200metres out from the start (or maybe he got smart to it!). Andy Reeves and I had a great time tootling around the course and he was a real help to me as I was really struggling health wise myself. Coming to the last hill he overtook me and even called my dogs to get them running again, this was awesome sportsmanship, something that would be great to see more of in all aspects of the dog world! On the home strait I caught up to about 1 metre behind and it was a 'drag race' to the finish line with the 2 Samoyed teams! Wish I had had a photo as it would have looked so neat! My guys ran out off puff about 20metres from the finish so finished just behind Andy, Tyson and Demon. Once again helpers were on hand to take care of dogs so I could recover!

At prize giving I was congratulated on my first races and treated in such a positive, encouraging way, it was such a nice feeling. My first race was completed in 18minutes and Sundays was 21minutes, showing that yes, the dogs were stuffed (so was their Mum)!!!!

Now I no what it is all about my dogs will again next year transform from Powder Puffs to dirty racing Sams and back again! Sharna will most likely not be racing again due to her age, so will need to find a buddy to team Zeus up with, but am looking forward to next racing season and to improving on my performances. But what an achievement on its own to race them and complete the 2 races.

Tal ki ng dog for sale

This guy sees a sign in front of a house "Talking Dog for Sale." He rings the bell and the owner tells him the dog is in the back yard. The guy goes into the back yard and sees a dog sitting there. "You talk?" he asks.

"Yep," the dog replies.

"So, what's your story?"

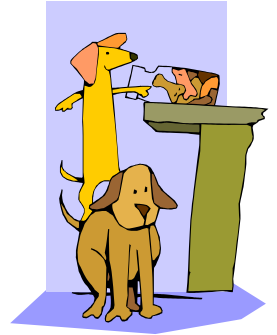

The dog looks up and says "Well, I discovered this gift pretty young and I wanted to help the government, so I told the CIA about my gift, and in no time they had me jetting from country to country, sitting in rooms with spies and world leaders, cause no one figured a dog would be eavesdropping.

I was one of their most valuable spies eight years running. The jetting around really tired me out, and I knew I wasn't getting any younger and I wanted to settle down. So I signed up for a job at the airport to do some undercover security work, mostly wandering near suspicious characters and listening in. I uncovered some incredible dealings there and was awarded a batch of medals. Had a wife, a mess of puppies, and now I'm just retired."

The guy is amazed. He goes back in and asks the owner what he wants for the dog. The owner says "Ten dollars."

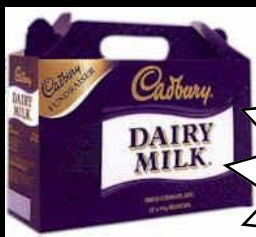

The guy says he'll buy him but asks the owner, "This dog is amazing. Why on earth are you selling him?"

The owner replies, " Because he's such a complete liar."

Chocolate toxic to dogs

How many times have you heard someone confess that they love chocolate themselves and sometimes give their dog a few pieces although they have heard that it is not good for dogs and could make them sick?

That is, unfortunately, quite a common occurrence but the truth is that you are not doing your dog any favours as far as health is concerned. Chocolate contains theobromine, a toxicant responsible for causing canine illness. Signs of theobromine poisoning include vomiting, excessive thirst, diarrhoea, restlessness and agitation.

These signs usually develop in six to eight hours. Kidney damage, seizures, heart rhythm irregularities and death may result, in severe cases. There is no real antidote for a theobromine overdose. Support and care can be given, and vomiting can be induced if the poisoning is recognised early enough. Obviously the best course of action is not to feed your dog chocolate to begin with and to be sure to hide your own chocolate stash so your dog can't help himself!

Luckily this seems to be what usually happens - human owners with a chocoholic habit do not want their dog to find and demolish their stores, so are generally careful about where they keep them. Perhaps the biggest danger could be from visitors or children who may leave chocolate they have brought with them, or been given, in an accessible place, such as on a coffee table.

White chocolate, however, follows different rules. Some dog treats are available dipped in white chocolate. Is this safe?

The answer is yes. Regular dark chocolate is made from cacao beans, the source of high levels of theobromine, a caffeine-like substance.

White chocolate, on the other hand, is made from cocoa butter, which is safe for dogs. The amount of theobromine in powdered cocoa varies, but it can be quite high. Usually, the darker the chocolate the higher the theobromine content. The amount of caffeine in different chocolate products is also extremely variable. For example, unsweetened baking chocolate reputedly has up to 10 times the caffeine of milk chocolate.

This means that as an after-dinner snack or supper treat, white chocolate is less likely to keep you awake half the night than dark chocolate. So what about the chocolate nibbles made especially for dogs - do they contain theobromine? The answer here is no. Manufacturers have formulated them to contain extra vitamins and minerals and to have various added qualities.

They are made especially for dogs, and although they are called choc drops, the name is not accurate - they are made of carob, and are therefore quite safe.

If you eat chocolate yourself you may like to keep a packet of 'chocolate' treats for your dog so that you can give him/her a treat when you succumb to the nibble habit yourself (and it does protect you from that feeling of guilt when your dog tries on the "sad eyes and drooling" look that they all keep in reserve for just such occasions).

However, you must remember that dogs are always healthier without chocolate in any form and even the specially produced treats should be used only on very special occasions - not as a daily substitute for some TLC from you as the dog's owner.

 2. Ch Angara Taiza Tale (Barr)

 3. Ch Penza Snow Mist (Kissell)

My first impression was the close resemblance your exhibits bore to ours and after opening the catalogue I understand why. The youngsters of both sexes were very promising with the bitches being more even type than the dogs. Despite their variations, the dogs fared the better in the run offs.

*We have common problems particularly short upper arms and straight shoulders, neither long or short backs are rare. Length of leg must be watched, for here we have quite a few exhibits that I feel require a greater length of leg. While the feet here are not too bad, yours were much better. I felt that your guard coats could be harsher and more profuse. In my critiques of individuals I have remarked on some being heavier than I like, as the standard calls for the weight to be "in proportion to size", it did not affect any of my placings.
 However as reindeer are smaller than cattle, a dog as robust as a Rottweiler is not necessary. A large dog like a large car consumes more fuel, and as the Arctic is not the Garden of Eden so a dog's appetite could well be important to the tribesmen, hence my comments.
 I believe the weights of 45lb to 56lb for dogs and 35lb to 45lb for bitches, which were in earlier standards, should have been retained to give an understanding of the conformation of a medium sized dog who is expected to be able to work in the snow.*

As breeders and exhibitors we should be concentrating on producing Samoyeds that are not only beautiful but capable of returning to the Arctic and performing the same tasks as the dogs of a century ago. Unfortunately dog shows are becoming nothing more than beauty parades. We need to compare our dogs against the pictures of that era, dogs that were the models for the original standard. We need to endeavour to breed to the standard rather than adapt the standard to what we are breeding. I was once told we should forget dogs of yesterday and progress. Have we?

Thank you for inviting me and I hope that exhibitors enjoyed the show as much as I did.

*Sincerely
 Robert Willis*

Eeyore

The story of Eeyore with the broken tail. She was one of the largest pups born but had a bend at the end of her tail, so was nick-named HOOK. Eeyore and 1 of her sister's were the lucky pups to go with their mum (Meecha) back to live with Wanda and Glen, for about 10 days, until they were 6 weeks. The pups now lived in cages because they could climb out of the Whelping Box (even with the extensions ! ). One evening, going to let Eeyore out, she managed to put her leg through the bars in the cage and let out a yell. I picked her up and cuddled her, which took a while for her to settle, presumed that she had given herself a fright. The next day she was walking on the leg, but it was sore. Following day and still not better, so off to the vet we went. The vet found a slight swelling in 1 paw but No Pain ! Eeyore was given some anti-inflammatories for 2 days, recheck, give for 2 more days. Because she still wasn't right, full x-rays were done on both front legs. The vet and I were shocked to find a large bone in her paw broken. When I picked her up from the Vet's, she had a large bandage on her leg and a Hood on her head (she now had New Nick-names Hooky or Hoppity!!) The vet's instructions to me "Don't let her get the bandage wet". It has been a very wet winter and she was partly toilet-trained. So we started experimenting with different plastic bags and how to tie them on! Eeyore's mission was how fast she could pull it off again! Inside water bowls became a problem. She managed to get her bandage into all sorts of bowls (including ones that hung on the cage door !) So I brought her a 'drip-feed' water bottle to attach to the cage. She walked around on the bandage without a problem and could run as fast as her sisters

(when she was allowed to play with them)

The bandage was changed after 7 days because of how fast pups grow. She had nearly worn the bottom out of the bandage! Another 7 days and the x-rays showed that the bone had healed.

It has been 2 weeks since the bandage has been off and it has taken this long for her to go back to walking on it.

The coat and skin are fine, I did dry the leg for the 1st few days when she went outside (because you could see that it was a bit itchy)

The other interesting thing is that her tail has carried on growing at the end and now has a double curl (it is a fault) but I have never seen anything like it before. Now she just needs to find a home?

HOPPITY

Christopher robin goes
Hoppity, Hoppity,
Hoppity, Hoppity, Hop
Whenever I tell him Politely to stop it, he Say's he can't possibly stop.

If he stopped hopping, he couldn't go anywhere,
Poor little Christopher
Couldn't go anywhere...
That's why he always goes Hoppity, Hoppity,
Hoppity,
Hoppity,
Hop.

I did hear that some exhibitors got up at 4.30 a.m. to bathe their dogs ready for the days showing, is that dedication or what?.

Throughout the weekend we had 'sunshine'.... LOTS of it, making us think it must be summer.

Yet again, 'us Kiwi's' made our presence known to our Australian friends in a very positive way. We may not have won the big one (Best in Show), but Sandii, with her New Zealand exported bitch 'Polar Glory N Bliss with Kimskaya' took out Puppy in Show, proudly supported by Karla and the rest of us. We didn't stop there, Lynne Barr won the 'FIRST' prize in the raffle, a magnificent 'Royal Dalton' statuette of an elegant lady with a Samoyed at her feet and I won the 'LAST' prize of the raffle, a somewhat LESS than magnificent 'Mitre 10' terracotta wine cooler. The only time we mentioned the rugby (the Bledisloe Cup) was when we had our group photograph taken, I just hope that they didn't chop our heads off in retaliation for it.

What made the biggest impression on me though was the parade of the 12 veterans, they all looked like they could still be a force in the ring and were enjoying 'their' moment. Some of them still have not grown up but the applause they received was warmly given by all the exhibitors and spectators and to add to this 'special moment', they then lined up to present a 'Guard of Honour' to the dog CC Lenny' (Kalaska Kennels) and the bitch CC 'Dee' (CH. Aldonza Poison By Dior, Fay Tucker) as they came out for the Best In Show finals.

It was, all in all, a great time, the show presentation and set up, the high quality and number of Samoyeds, the old friends we met and the new ones we made, it did make for a 'memorable' weekend.

Though on a more 'sober' note, I did come across quite a few Kiwi's during the show who where 'hanging' out for a wine, does this mean that we celebrate our dogs a lot earlier or perhaps we just drink more.....you can only guess.

The Samoyed Club Inc Championship Show 2005 JUDGING RESUME

HELEN HILL Melbourne, Australia

I met my first Samoyed in 1974 as a puppy, just before I got married and spent 12 months in Perth, Western Australia. This dog came to live with us when we returned to Melbourne. He was registered and when I finally got his papers I contacted the Samoyed Club, became a member, and started showing.

This dog was Ch Kalina Imperial Luna and with the help of Jane Sydenham-Clarke handling him, he won best in groups and a best in show. I was hooked. Ch Ladara Fair Zaminka and Ch Kalina Fair Zala followed and Mezen Kennels was established.

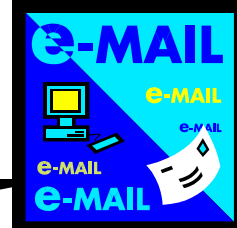

I started going to judges lectures in 1980 so that I could study about breeds and learn what went into making them unique. My main goal was always to increase my knowledge of breed type and construction so that I could incorporate this information into my breeding. I enjoy judging and the challenge of trying to find the dog that is described in the standard. I have spent much time discussing with breeders of the various breeds in the Utility and Non-Sporting group the merits of the various dogs, always spending time with those breeders who were honest and genuine in their praise and fair in their criticism of the different dogs.

I have a love of all dogs and appreciate a good one no matter what breed it is.

Due to other commitments I have not pursued other groups and though I do judge working and gun dogs at Open Show level I am happy at this time to specialise within my two groups.

Reporting Sheets for all The Samoyed Inc shows will be sent out by email only unless a hardcopy is asked for.

So please make sure we have your up to date correct email address. Please send to Anita Andrew:
